REWARE OF IMITATIONS. ALWAYS ASK FOR DR. PLERCE'S PELLETS, OR LITTLE SUGAR-COATED PILLS.

Being entirely vegetable, they operate without disturbance to the system, diet, or occupation. Put up in glass vials, hermetically scaled. Always fresh and reliable. As a laxative, alterative, or purgative, these little Pellets give the most perfect satisfaction.

SICK HEADACHE,

Bilious Headache,
Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion.
Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels, are promptly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr.
Pierce's Pieasant Purgative Pellets.
In explanation of the remedial power of these Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may truthfully be said that their action upon the system is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative influence. Sold by is offered by the manufactur-ers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, beavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and sorid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians. By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh, Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache.

Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a wellman, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting." THOMAS J. RUSHING, Esq., 2902 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luck-ily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Renedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Runyan P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and nent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."

—In 1870 there were 84,527 idiots in this country; in 1880, 76,896.

"I see," said Colonel Boland, as he tried to make a ring of tobacco smoke which would last till it got to the ceiling, "that some of the papers are talk-ing about instances of coolness and bravery in the early history of the ter-

"I noticed it," replied Judge Persimmon. "Well, old Cy Weathersby, out at Pierre, used to be a cool one."

"Is that so?" "Yes. Right at the side of his bed was a window the bottom of which was just on a level with his bed as he lay there. One day he heard that some fellows were going to gather on the opposite side of the street and shoot him through this window after he had gone

"He moved the bed I suppose?" "Not much. He simply sawed about six inches off each leg of the bedstead which let it down below the window a little, rolled in and went to sleep. The boys blazed away through the window and broke his wife's arm in two places.

Old Cy never woke up till morning."
"Was he always as cool as that?" "Usually. One day he was going into a saloon and met a fellow with a double-barrelled shotgun. The fellow shoved the muzzle under his nose, and says he: 'Smell o' that!' Old Cy sniffed at it a couple of times and then says: 'I don't smell nothin' peculiar.
'Wy ye infernal fool,' yelled the man,
'I mean I'm goin' to blow the whole head right off of ye! 'Oh, thunder, said Cy, 'that's it, is it—what made you fool me 'bout the smellin'?' It disgusted the fellow so that he went out and shot himself instead of old Cy."

"Any other instances?" "Yes. One evening just after dark he was sitting in a rocking-chair by the open door smoking when he saw a man sneaking along behind the fence with a gun. Just then his wife came into the room and old Cy said: 'My dear, won't you take the rocking-chair here by the cook o' the door?" He got up just as deliberate as you please and she hadn't more than sat down till the fellow blazed away and blowed all her back hair off. Old Cy was always very thoughtful that way about his wife. Once they nominated him for the legislature and a big crowd went up with a band to serenade him and get him to make a speech. He thought the boys were after him again and he stepped to the door and said: 'Gentlemen you will have to excuse me, my wife always 'tends to these matters!' Then he bowed and went out in the kitchen and told her another woman was going past with an eastern bonnet on and she rushed out and got all the music and bowed and thanked them and threw kisses at the chairman and then the crowd went back and nominated another man. This mistake made old Cy feel pretty blue for a long time, and finally he pined away and died thinking about it. But I tell you he was a cool one while he lived.—Dakota Bell.

Frozen Meats in Siberia.

No precautions are required for the preservation of beef, for it takes care of itself. Nearly all butchers kill at the beginning of cold weather a sufticient number of animals to furnish provisions for the entire winter and allow the meat to freeze. There is no fear of any food changing in such a temperature. The fish become so solid and stiff that they are set up on their tails against the walls of the markets, tails against the walls of the markets, be their tail ever so long and the fish ever so heavy.

Often fruits preserved in ice are placed upon the table of the Siberian evening meal, the method of keeping them being similar to that employed with meats. As soon as the severe cold sets in they are exposed to the air, if possible toward the north, where there is no sun to reach them; they thus become completely fro en.

When eaten they are found to have retained their flavor marvelously, notwithstan ling their change from a frozen rigidity to the thawe I state necessary for use. At the moment of being served they are usually as hard as wood, and, if they chance to fall rattle like stones apon the floor. The heat of the room gradually softens them and they assume their original form .- Youth's Companion.

Consumption, Scrofula, General DEBILITY, WASTING DISEASES OF CHILDREN, Caronic Coughs and Bronchitis can be cured by the use of Scorr's Emulsion of Pure Cod

Lifelong Disappointment.

Even if one acquiesces in the loss of liberty the deprivation is always a sad one. A visitor at the Convent of Turgia, in Italy, describes the disappointed longing of one of its inmates, an aged woman, who had been brought up in a convent, and, when her education was complete, at the request of her friends -no dowry, and therefore no husband, having been found-had taken the

She could not remember having walked in a street in all her life, and with this fact was connected her greatest earthly disappointment. Some three years before I met her she had been sent from Dijon to this convent at Turgia. The journey occupied about forty hours, and she was joyfully animated by the hope of just once traversing the streets on foot.

But alse for the frailty of human hopes! The lady superior, knowing nothing of this secret longing, and de-ciding that a woman of more than 80 years of age would be glad to drive, ent a close carriage to meet her at the railway station. There were tears in the poor old woman's eyes as she said to me: "And now I shall never walk in a street!"— Youth's Companion.

A srour old lady got out of a crowded omnibus the other day, exclaiming, "Well, that's a relief anyhow." To which the driver replied, "So the houses

Advice to Consumptives.

On the appearance of the first symptoms, as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, chilly sensations, followed by night-sweats and cough, prompt measures of relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs; therefore, use the great anti-scrofulous or blood-purifier and strength restorer, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medicel Discovery." Superior to cod liver oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood, and kindred affections, it has no equal. Sold by druggists.
